Hello, and welcome to The Imagine Neighborhood!

What is The Imagine Neighborhood?
The Imagine Neighborhood is an award-winning podcast that teaches kids and their grown-ups social-emotional skills like building friendships, practicing patience, and finding calm. Our show takes place in a special, magical neighborhood; a place where it sometimes rains rubber chickens or you have to hop on rocks to cross Lava Avenue. The Imagine Neighborhood lives inside everyone’s imagination, and every week we tell fun stories about the fun things that happen here.

Talking about race and identity with your kids

In The Imagine Neighborhood, we strive to create a world where everyone is treated fairly. But it’s important to remember that a fair and equitable world is one that requires effort, focus, and conversation. Kids as young as five years old begin to notice racial differences and internalize biases*. You can help equip your kids for these kinds of conversations by encouraging questions and by finding shows, books, and podcasts with strong diverse representation.

About “Blizzards and Wizards”

The team at The Imagine Neighborhood partnered with multiple esteemed researchers in the field of positive racial identity development to create a six-part series titled Imagine Equity: Six New Stories About Race, Identity, and Making Things Right. In this episode, “Blizzards and Wizards”, a young wizard named Preston Changeo travels to The Imagine Neighborhood to visit his longtime friend, Alakazamba—only to be shocked when he realizes that she’s become friends with Count Vacula, a vampire! Insisting that wizards and monsters can never be friends, Preston Changeo needs to learn that having friends and neighbors with all kinds of different identities is not only fun, but it can help you learn new skills and become a better friend.

Your identity is a combination of who you are, the way you think, and the way you are viewed by the world. There are many different parts that make up your identity, like your name, the country you live in, your ethnicity, and if you have brothers or sisters. Finding things in common with others is a great way to build friendships, but it’s also wonderful to have friends with identities that are different from yours.

As you listen together to “Blizzards and Wizards,” ask the kids to think about their own friendships with questions like: What kinds of identities do you bring to your friendships? What do you appreciate about friends who are different from you? What’s one thing that makes you feel valued and cared for as a friend, and how can you make others feel that way?

Next, invite them to write a poem about new friends. They can even write a musical tune for their poem to turn it into a flutefisk opera for Alakazambra and Count Vacula to sing together!
